A STOCK OF CURIOS WORTH THOUSANDS

A Most Remarkable Stock of Rarely Beautiful Laces and Gems, Antiques and Curios Brought to Phoenix and Added to the Already Unusual Stock of the Graves Indian Shoo

Several years ago when Mr. E. L. Graves decided to leave Pasadena California and make his home in the Salt River Vailey, he sold his home in city to William A. Howe, : wealthy young Californian. Later when Mr. Graves became an India trader here and a dealer in Indian craft and curios, Mr. Howe become very much interested and later decided to go into the same line of business. At his request Mr. Graves went to Gallop and there selected for him a $3,500 order of fine Navajo blankets, said to be the largest single shipment of Naalo blankets ever made. Mr. Howe ade a similar appropriation for every l all corners of the globe bought the rare and beautiful products for which the many countries are famous, and gathered them altogether in his store in Just about the time, however, that Mr. Howe had brought stock to a most unusual condition of beauty and completeness, he found that his other large interests demanded so much of his time that he was unable to give the curio store the attention it deserved. So when Mr. Graves was visiting him the past summer, he made the suggestion that Mr. Graves dispose of the stock here in Phoenix. A plan was finally worked out and Mr. Howe sent thousands of dollars worth of his beautiful objects of art and jewelry to Phoenix. Included in this collection are fine specimens of Spanish gold damascene jewelry Catalonian embroidery, Chinese Jade, Japanese kimones, fresh water pearls, valued up to $350, Chinese mandarin lot of Navajo rugs, moccasins, pillow tops are also included in the Howe collection, all of which with very few exceptions is offered at the original cost

Probably never before in the hisory of Phoenix has there been such an pportunity for Christmas gift shopsuch a large and exclusive display, and the opportunity becomes still more desirable when the low prices are con-

Mr. Graves reports that business at the Graves Indian Shop the past few months has shown a decided increase over last year, and that all indications point to a record-breaking Christmas business. Because of the great distance that separates Phoenix from the east, many make their purchases of gifts for eastern friends early in December, so that they can be sure of having ample time in which to forward The earl, shopper gets the FROM LOS ANGELES-Mr. Paul dian Shep at 33 West Adams-Adv.
